DRINK MILK

Prof. E. N. McCollum of Johns Hopkins university says that if Americans would each drink a quart of milk a day, and eat proportionately less meat, they would live to a ripe old age, and would be healthier and have better eyesight right along.

He has proved it by rats, which for dietary purposes are said to be much like human beings. For 15 years Prof. McCollum has been experimenting with his charming little rats, feeding them variously, after the manner of human beings, as far as the fifth generation. When a rat is not fed properly, it suffers from malnutrition just like a child, with rickets and other familiar symptoms. When it gets the proper amount of butter fats and other requirements for an ample and balanced ration, it thrives. So do children, and so, the professor insists, will men and women if they will pay as much attention to their diet as intelligent people now pay to the feeding of children.

So what the country needs is not more beef steers but more milk cows—not more herds but more dairies. And with them, or as a condition precedent to them, it needs a public more appreciative of the virtues of milk. The ordinary adult, male or female, really has little appreciation either of the dietary value of good milk or of its cheapness compared with other foods containing the same amount of nourishment. It is especially desirable in the summer time, when it combines the virtues of a non-heating food with seasonal plenty and cheapness.

WOMEN NEED JOBS, TOO

Whenever a shortage of work appears, somebody raises the howl to let the women go and give the jobs to the men who need them. Income tax returns indicate that a need is not all on the male side.

When the tax returns for the state of New York were made up for 1921, it was found that 107,603 single women had reported as self-supporting, and 29,911 single women answered as heads of families with others dependent upon them for support. In addition to these single wage earners, there were several thousand married women with dependents.

These are the figures for but one state. These women are not working for fun or for a little pin money. They are working because, in their cases, the old fond notion that man is the wage earner has proved an economic fallacy.

The industrial problem cannot be solved by stealing from these women the jobs they need. Instead, there must be such a revival of business as will make jobs for everybody. The sooner the altered economic situation is recognized and people resume work on the best basis they can arrange, the sooner this will happen. One job does not shut out another, but creates more jobs through its demand for working materials and the purchasing power which its wage confers.

Three American steamships, a schooner and two foreign freighters, are mysteriously missing in the Atlantic. As a speedy solution of the mystery is desired, it is hoped that congress will not undertake another investigation.

Firemen Called To No. 113 1/2 Pennsylvania Ave. By Alarm At Noon

An alarm given by a Pennsylvania railroad yard engine called the fire department to the home of Francis Jones, No. 113 1/2 Pennsylvania avenue, at noon today. The fire, a small blaze in the roof, was easily extinguished by the use of the hand chemicals. The blaze is believed to have been started by a spark from a railroad engine.

MORE ARRESTS ARE MADE FOR BOOZE SELLING

Thomas Harrington Is Arrested By Columbus Police This Morning

WANTED HERE FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Prietti Is Arrested By Officer French And Placed In County Jail

Thomas Harrington, wanted in Mt. Vernon on a charge of violating the prohibition laws, was arrested in Columbus this morning and is now locked up in the city prison.

Sheriff Lytle and Deputy Sheriff Walker drove to Columbus this afternoon in an automobile and will return with Harrington tonight.

Harrington is one of the alleged bootleggers against whom an affidavit was filed by Prosecuting Attorney Paul M. Ashbaugh this week. Officers have been searching about the city, but were unable to get any trace of the man. Early this morning Sheriff Lytle telephoned the Columbus police and asked them to be on the lookout for Harrington. Shortly after noon, Sheriff Lytle received a telegram that Harrington had been picked up by the police and was being held at the city prison.

Harrington is charged with transporting intoxicating liquors in violation of the Crabbe prohibition act. Harrington is one of the sixteen men against whom affidavits were filed by Prosecutor Ashbaugh in probate court on Wednesday.

PRIETTI IS ARRESTED BY OFFICER FRENCH

Another alleged bootlegger was taken into custody late Friday night when Patrolman John French arrested Arreritz Prietti on one of the warrants issued out of the probate court at the instance of Prosecuting Attorney Paul M. Ashbaugh.

In fact two affidavits have been filed against Prietti, one charging the transportation of intoxicating liquor and the other possessing intoxicating liquor.

Prietti was placed in a cell in the county jail to await arraignment in probate court.

NATALO ENTERS A PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

Tony Natalo, who was arrested on Thursday on a charge of selling intoxicating liquors, was arraigned in probate court Saturday morning. He entered a plea of not guilty and his bond was fixed at $500. In default of bond he was sent back to the county jail to await a hearing which will probably occur next Tuesday, June 23.

BIG CONTRACT IS GIVEN LOCAL CO.

Knecht-Feeney Company To Wire All Buildings At Kenyon College

The Knecht-Feeney Electric Co. of this city was today awarded the contract for wiring all the buildings at Kenyon college, Gambier.

The contract includes the wiring of six buildings and 12 residences. It is one of the largest contracts for electrical work that has been let locally, for many months.

This was welcome news to electrical workers, for it will absorb the local unemployment among members of that craft.

Work will be commenced at once and will be finished in September.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Mt. Vernon

The Mt. Vernon W. C. T. U. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Susan Huntsberger of East High street with the Vice President Mrs. Stephens presiding. After the singing of the Crusade Hymn led by Mrs. Huntsberger, Mrs. R. M. Sandy conducted the devotional service reading for the lesson the beautiful story of Nehemiah rebuilding the walls of Jerusalem. She gave a very interesting talk showing the work done in those days is typical of the way it should be done now. First we should have a plan, each man should know his job, to be earnestly concerned and the most important, to go often to God for help and guidance. She closed her talk with an earnest prayer for the work of the W. C. T. U. in every department. Mrs. Margaret Headington then led in the flag salute followed by Mrs. Lee Shuman who read a very excellent paper on the history of the American flag.

The dates, plans, story of Betsey Ross, etc., was the same story so often told but Mrs. Shuman had woven the story in such a splendid manner the paper was unusually interesting. She closed by reciting the beautiful poem "Your Flag and My Flag." After a report from the Purity Superintendent's department that a large number of leaflets on that subject had been distributed, Mrs. McIntire then took charge of the meeting and rendered a fine program. Miss Naomi Dubinski gave two lovely selections on the piano after which Mrs. McIntire read a paper on National Prohibition. She told the story of the hardship of the Crusade women, how the fight against liquor was first begun in 1873 at Hillsboro, O., how they prayed and sang but how their prayers with their faith that their Lord would help them and they did win out and that now there are a half million members in the W. C. T. U. and the organization exists in forty countries.

Mrs. Sockman, Mrs. Lord and Mrs. Worley read the pathetic story of Mary Coulton, how she rejoiced when her husband telephoned her of the many states voting dry and the splendid story only re-echoed that happy event and the thanksgiving in thousands of other homes when they learned the grim monster had been slain. Mrs. Weir then ended the story by declaring the work is not done but we must work on and help in child welfare work, Americanization, and other lines. After a reading by Miss Dubinski the Union sang the jubilee song with Mrs. Huntsberger and Miss Gilmore leading. We then adjourned into the social hour with the committee serving dainty refreshments.

ENTER 100 HORSES FOR RACE MEETING

With Good Weather Mt. Vernon Will See Fine Racing Next Week

That the race meeting at Mt. Vernon next week, June 29 and 30, and July 1, will surpass even the fondest hopes of those having charge of the meeting is evidenced by the fact that early Friday morning over 100 entries were in the hands of the secretary. This number was received in spite of the fact that the entries do not close until Saturday night.

Every race has filled already. Mr. Charles Swisshelm of Hillsboro, O., is coming with 10 head. The Kentucky Stables have sent in a reservation for nine tails. Many entries have been received from both North and South Carolina, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Indiana.

Several horses arrived Thursday evening but only the names of two were learned. They are Red S. from Sandusky, Ohio, and Grand Pointer, owned by Mr. Rowlee of Lancaster, Ohio.

"It is an assured fact that Mt. Vernon is going to have the greatest race meeting ever held in Ohio," said Secretary Bernmont today.
